The Udall Public Library is currently a member of the South Central Kansas Library System (SCKLS) in accordance with Kansas Statutes Annotated (KSA) 75-2547 Regional systems of cooperating libraries and following statutes. A South Central Kansas Library System cooperating member library may seek to expand its local public library taxing area, but any expansion of a local public library taxing area creates a reduction in the taxing area of the regional library system. HB 2205 will expand the Udall Public library taxing district while reducing the South Central Kansas Library System taxing district. South Central Kansas Library System believes the passage of special legislation like HB 2205 will have a statewide long-term financial impact of reducing the taxing district areas supporting regional library systems.

No initial mill levy nor subsequent levy limit are identified in HB 2205. Nevertheless, using 2023 assessed valuations, a mill levy rate of 1.000 for the proposed expanded public library taxing district was used to project tax impacts (<https://admin.ks.gov/offices/accounts-reports/local-government/municipal-services/county-tax-levy-sheets/2022-county-tax-levies-for-the-2023-budgets>). If authorized, the proposed HB 2205 would decrease tax revenue for the South Central Kansas Library System taxing district by a projected $36,197 and increase the Udall Public Library tax revenue by $4,927.

South Central Kansas Library System annually contracts with the Udall Public Library in accordance with Kansas Administrative Regulation (KAR) 54-1-18 to provide free service and to permit any citizen of the territory comprising South Central Kansas Library System “to borrow materials and receive services without charge and subject to reasonable library rules”. Based on 2021 data, the 88 cooperating public and academic libraries in the twelve county South Central Kansas Library System service area provided access and basic service to 87,003 persons who resided in the South Central Kansas Library System taxing district and who were registered users at a cooperating member library.

In addition to supporting free access and basic service to citizens and students who reside outside of 72 public library taxing districts, the South Central Kansas Library System provides other supporting grants and services free-of-charge to 145 cooperating member public, academic, school district and special libraries. These other supporting grants and services from the South Central Kansas Library System would not be available and cost-effective to provide locally, so expertise and services from regional library systems create staffing efficiencies and cost-savings among cooperating member libraries.

The 2022 South Central Kansas Library System Value of Services Statement for the Udall Public Library totaled $19,560 including $8,943 for grants-in-aid, technology and programming grants as well as $10,617 for services including continuing education and training, interlibrary loan, rotating collections, technology support, administrative support and other services. Despite a projected $36,197 reduction in South Central Kansas Library System tax revenue as a consequence of the proposed Udall area library tax district, the regional library system will continue to provide supporting grants and services to the Udall library at no charge.

HB 2205 expands the Udall Public library taxing district while reducing the South Central Kansas Library System taxing district. Consequently, SCKLS believes the passage of special legislation like HB 2205 will have a statewide long-term financial impact of reducing the taxing district areas that support regional library systems of cooperating member public, academic, school district and special libraries.
