

2023 Kansas Statutes

82a-526. Same; when sovereignty relinquished and assumed. The effective date of the relinquishment of sovereignty over the lands described in this act shall be midnight of the effective date of a resolution or an act of congress approving the respective relinquishment of sovereignty by the states of Missouri and Kansas. Thereupon, the state of Kansas shall assume and accept sovereignty over all lands lying on the Kansas side of the center of said channel of the Missouri river which is so relinquished by the state of Missouri.

History: L. 1949, ch. 510, § 6; February 26.