HOUSE SUBSTITUTE FOR SENATE BILL NO. 160

As Agreed to April 30, 2012

Brief***

The bill also would amend the state debt setoff law to include in the definition of "debt" any amount of support due and owing an individual who is receiving assistance in collecting that support by a court trustee pursuant to KSA 23-495. 23-3101, et seq., allows for enforcement of support orders through income withholding.

The state debt setoff law, found in KSA 75-6201, et seq., provides tools for the collection of debts owed to the state or of support debts owed to persons who are using certain state agencies or contractors to collect such debt. An example of an available tool under this law is the setoff of a debt against a debtor's income tax refund.

The Douglas County District Court Trustee requested Senator Julia Lynn introduce SB 160.

In the 2011 Senate Judiciary Committee, Douglas County District Court Trustee Katy Nitche appeared in support of the bill. Trustee Nitche explained there are two primary methods of enforcement of support orders in Kansas: court trustee offices and entities that contract with the Kansas Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services (SRS) pursuant to a federally-based program referred to as "IV-D." The trustee stated there are currently some differences in the enforcement options available to court trustees versus those available to IV-D entities, and SB 160 would provide court trustees with the same tools as IV-D entities have. According to the trustee, SB 160 would ensure that Kansas children have the full complement of enforcement tools at their disposal regardless of who is enforcing a support order.

No opponents provided testimony. At the request of Trustee Nitche, the 2011 Senate Judiciary Committee amended the bill to add the KSA 23-495 provision to the definition of "debtor" so that the statutory language would be consistent. The Committee recommended the bill be passed as amended.

The 2012 House Judiciary Committee recommended a substitute bill for HB 160 be passed, replacing its text with the text of HB 2106, relating to trespass liability.

The fiscal note on the bill, as introduced, states the Office of Judicial Administration and Social and Rehabilitation Services indicate the bill would have no fiscal effect on their operations.
