

2012 Kansas Statutes

17-5321. Records to be kept at home office; record account of each person; availability. Every association shall keep at the home office correct and complete books of accounts and minutes of the proceedings of members, directors and the executive committee. A complete record of all transactions shall be maintained at all times, and a record of the account of each person doing business with the association shall be made available to him at any time upon request.

History: L. 1943, ch. 133, § 50; L. 1965, ch. 156, §2; June 30.