

2012 Kansas Statutes

59-1717. Compensation and expenses. Every fiduciary shall be allowed his or her necessary expenses incurred in the execution of his or her trust, and shall have such compensation for services and those of his or her attorneys as shall be just and reasonable. At any time during administration the fiduciary may apply to the court for an allowance upon his or her compensation and upon attorneys' fees.

History: L. 1939, ch. 180, § 147; July 1.