

2012 Kansas Statutes

59-2241. Hearing on contingent demands. Contingent claims or demands against an estate shall be heard and determined by the court in accordance with the rights of the parties respecting such claims and in such manner as not to delay the closing of the estate, if that can be done with justice to the parties.

History: L. 1939, ch. 180, § 217; July 1.