You will find the definition of instruction on page 15.

All states must follow the national requirements for computing instruction for school districts across the nation.

Instruction is directly related to the teaching of students.

2100 – Student Support Services – Includes social work, guidance counselors, information services, health services, dental services, nursing services, psychological services, speech pathology services, audiology services, occupational therapy services, etc.

2200 – Instructional Support Services – Includes curriculum development, staff training, library/media services, audiovisual services, instruction-related technology, network support, etc.

Also, attached are two (2) computer printouts as follows.

Computer printout (SF13-045) provides the expenditures for the following funds for the past five years: textbook materials and revolving, special education and contingency reserve.

Computer printout (SF13-046) provides a breakdown of the transfers from special funds to the general fund for the 2011-12 school year and the budgeted for the 2012-13 school year.
