House Bill 2086

Testimony of the Kansas Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers
Proponent

Dear Chairman Jennings and Members of the Committee:

This organization has been raising concerns about the Kansas Offender Registration Act (hereafter referred to as KORA) since at least 2006. We were one of three opponent conferees to the addition of drug offenders in 2007 SB 204. On this 10th anniversary of SB 204, we wholeheartedly support HB 2086.

In addition, we fully support the reclassification of not paying $20 from a severity level nine felony to a misdemeanor. We know of no other statute that makes it a crime to not pay a fee. Interestingly, the following are nonperson felonies (and correctly so, because they are nonviolent offenses): aggravated escape from non-DOC custody while held on a felony charge/conviction without using violence (SL 8), aggravated escape from DOC custody without using violence (SL 5), interference with a law enforcement officer (SL 9), and tampering with an electronic monitoring device (SL 6). Yet not paying $20 two reporting periods in a row is a person felony (unless you register for a non-person offense).

Background on the Kansas Offender Registration Act

The first offender registry act in Kansas was created on April 29, 1993. It was called the Habitual Sex Offender Registration Act. It required a person twice convicted of a sexually violent crime to register with the sheriff in the Kansas county where he/she lived. The information was open to law enforcement agencies only.

On April 14, 1994, the Act was amended/expanded and renamed the Kansas Sex Offender Registration Act. The Act was expanded to allow public access to registrants' information at the sheriff's office. In 1997, violent offenders (murder and manslaughter) and offenders of certain crimes with victims under 18 were added. That year the Act was renamed and has since remained the Kansas Offender Registration Act. Since 1997, additional sex offenses have been added to the definition of offender. People found to be sexually violent predators in a civil proceeding were added in 2001. Juvenile sex offenders were added in 2002. In 2006, people "convicted of any person felony [where a finding was made that] a deadly weapon was used in the commission of such person felony" were added.

In 2007, SB 204 added drug offenders convicted of manufacturing, possession of precursors, and drug distribution or possession with intent to distribute (regardless of amount) (marijuana is not included). SB 204 also did away with the KBI sending out compliance letters and instead required in-person visits to the local sheriff's office(s) three times a year for all offenders. In 2011, attempts, conspiracies, and solicitations of the enumerated drug offenses were added as registrable offenses.

In 2011, SB 37 dramatically changed KORA. The idea was to bring Kansas into "substantial compliance" with SORNA in order to avoid the loss of Byrne Grant money. At that time, there were four states in substantial compliance. Today, there are 17 (34% of states). <http://www.smart.gov/sorna.htm>. SORNA has absolutely nothing to do with drug or violent offenders, yet the sweeping changes in SB 37 were applied to all three types of offenders (sex, drug, and violent). Registrants are now required to report four times a year.

In 2012, HB 2568 added juvenile adjudications to some provisions. It also provided that even if a person gets his/her conviction expunged, he/she must continue to register for the now-non-existent conviction. That information would not be publicly available, but the person could be punished all the same for noncompliance. At the request of a local businessman and the DOC, HB 2568 also restricts employment information from being on the offender registry website, but it is publicly available by contacting the appropriate registering law enforcement agency or by signing up for community notification through the KBI website. (To see what that screen looks like, as well as the geographical search screen, see Attachments A and B.)

In 2013, SB 20 made a few changes to KORA, including specifying that drug offenders affected by KORA were those convicted after July 1, 2007. For the six years prior to that, KORA was applied to drug offenders who were convicted before a drug offender registry even existed.

Additional background on inclusion of drug offenses in KORA

In 2007, what started as SB 14 would have added the crimes of manufacture and possession of precursors to the list of registrable offenses. One proponent conferee brought up that the odds of living next to a drug dealer were greater than next to a meth lab house, so he thought drug sale crimes should be included as well. This amendment was offered on the Senate floor and passed. Once on the House side, this idea was supported by some who thought that what had been added was distribution of methamphetamine within 1,000 feet of a school. That was not the case, as it was drafted and offered as the entire sale/possession with intent to sell statute. This was concerning to the KBI:

It is certainly true that drug trafficking, in any form and any drug, can be a very dangerous profession. And it is true that innocent bystanders are shot or injured when deals go bad or retribution is attempted. However, our first concern is resources – we estimated 100-200 meth cooks who would need to register, a number we could absorb. But there may be 1000 to 2000 convictions each year for sale, attempted sale and possession with intent to sale under K.S.A. 65-4161. . . . Obviously, additional personnel and resources will be necessary.

Our second concern would be the impact on the local sheriff offices. While the bill contemplates collecting a fee, that might be problematic with some offenders. Furthermore, even with a fee, the number of registrants might strain the support staff at many sheriff offices.

Third, there is a question about dilution – we need to keep the registry workable so that the public can readily find the registrants that concern them. Too many people on the list will make it unwieldy and less useful.

(Testimony from KBI to House Judiciary Committee, March 14, 2007; emphasis in original.) The KBI suggested that the amendment be removed and a more thorough discussion held the following year. Nevertheless, the provisions ended up in SB 204. Because the statute had no triggering date, the drug offender provisions were applied to offenders who had been convicted months to years earlier, when no one envisioned this consequence. This remained the case for six years until 2013 SB 20.

Furthermore, KORA requires people with qualifying drug convictions from other states or federal courts to register, even though there is no registry requirement for federal drug crimes and no other state (except maybe California, but our research is ongoing) registers distribution offenses by requiring a person to take affirmative, ongoing steps to comply.

History of the penalties for failing to comply with KORA

From 1993 to mid-1999, failure to register was a Class A nonperson misdemeanor. In 1999, the Legislature made failure to register a severity level 10 nonperson felony. It remained that way until 2006, when failure to register got caught up in HB 2576 (commonly referred to as Jessica's Law). In HB 2576, failure to register for all underlying offenses (even non-sex offenses) was doubled to SL 5, elevated to a person felony, and provided that every thirty days of failure was a separate offense.

As of July 1, 2011, failing to register was a SL 6 person felony for a first offense, a SL 5 person felony for a second offense, a SL 3 person felony for a third or subsequent offense and a SL 3 person felony for an aggravated violation (i.e. violation that lasts over 180 consecutive days). To put this in context, here is one example: someone convicted of SL 4 possession with intent to distribute/distribution (which is the lowest level) is required to register. The sentencing range she faces for failing to comply with KORA (17-46 months) is almost the same as her underlying drug crime (14-51 months).

As of July 1, 2013, it was a Class A misdemeanor to not pay within 15 days the $20 registration fee that is owed when an offender goes in for the quarterly registrations. It was a SL 9 person felony if, within 15 days of the recent registration, two or more $20 payments have not been paid.

In 2016, HB 2463 made it a nonperson crime for failing to register when the underlying crime was a nonperson (ex.: it's a nonperson felony if the person registers for a nonperson drug felony). It remains a person felony for those who register for person crimes. It remains a SL 6, 5 or 3 for all offenders (unless it is failing to pay $20 two or more times, in which case it is a SL 9).

Offenses covered under KORA and a registrant's duties

Attachment C is a brochure produced in September 2016 by the KBI. It is a user-friendly list of registrable offenses, along with some FAQs. All drug offenses covered by KORA have a registration period of 15 years. If a person gets a second qualifying conviction, the period is for life. There is no way to be removed earlier than 15 years (or life, depending on the relevant period). Attachment C also explains that registered offenders must renew their driver's licenses yearly and it will say on their licenses that they are a registered offender.

Attachment D is from the KBI's website and lists out a registrant's duties. All of this includes drug offenders. This text is basically what is in the quarterly reports that registrants have to initial. It does not illustrate the amount of detail that exists in the form the registrants have to fill out (ex.: tattoos, e-mail and online accounts, cars/boats/planes/motorcycles makes and models, etc.). Offenders do not receive any sort of reminder when it is time to register (put another way, your dentist sends you a postcard or your doctor leaves you a voice message, but there are no reminders for KORA registrants). In addition to quarterly in-person visits, registrants must report in person whenever there is a change in their information, i.e. they get a new job, get a new e-mail address, buy a boat, get a new tattoo, want to take a trip out of the country, etc.

Failure to comply with any of these duties, even unintentionally, is prosecuted as a SL 6, 5, or 3 felony for all types of offenders (drug, violent, and sex). Failing to comply is a strict liability offense. In other words, there is no criminal intent required. The only other strict liability crimes specifically listed in our statutes are DUI, commercial DUI, and chemical test refusal. See K.S.A. 21-5203. In other words, a person is cut off from raising a defense to failing to comply. Here are some real-life examples:

- You forgot to register on time, get there two weeks (or less) late, but none of your information has changed since your previous registration. No defense - you are prosecuted for a SL 6 felony.
- Your apartment burned down, which law enforcement knows, but you failed to go tell them within three business days that you had to move. No defense - you are prosecuted for a SL 6 felony.
- You work in a county that is different from where you live and you failed to register in that other county (but are compliant - and therefore all of your information is on a public website - in your home county). No defense - you are prosecuted for a SL 6 felony.

- You are homeless and do not report as frequently as law enforcement tells you to (which can be more than quarterly if you are homeless). No defense - you are prosecuted for a SL 6 felony.
- You buy a new jet ski and forget to include it on your registration form. No defense - you are prosecuted for a SL 6 felony.
- You register while in jail and get out the next day. This happens during your registration month (of which you have four a year). You don't go in to register again during that month. No defense - you are prosecuted for a SL 6 felony.

Reasons for removing the bulk of drug offenders from KORA

There is no research, study, data, or other evidence-based assessment (to my knowledge) on whether including thousands of people with convictions for distribution or possession with intent to distribute on a registry does anything to reduce recidivism or increase public safety. There was none in 2007 and none today.

What at least one proponent (KBI) and the opponents said in 2007 would happen, has happened: 1) law enforcement resources have been strained to comply with KORA requirements; 2) the registry has been diluted; 3) having thousands of registrants who have been convicted of distribution-related offenses is expensive not only because you have to register them, but because they are prosecuted, supervised on probation, and/or incarcerated when they fail to comply; and 4) registrants have a hard time getting jobs (employment being the main predictor of success/not recidivating, according to the DOC and others), housing, participating in positive life activities, etc.

HB 2086 would restore the drug offender portion of KORA back to its original intent, by including only those convicted of manufacturing crimes and possession of precursors (in order to manufacture). That would free up law enforcement resources across the state, as well as resources at the KBI, to be put to use on things that have been shown to improve public safety and reduce crime. It will free up prison beds and other criminal justice system resources. It will make success more likely for the thousands of drug offenders who are essentially serving an additional sentence by being subject to excessive expectations and, if they don't meet them, excessive penalties for failing to comply in even the smallest of ways.

Duties of a Registered Offender

Register with the registering law enforcement agency within three days of entering into any county to reside, maintain employment, or attend school.

Register four times a year in person at the registering law enforcement agency in any county where they reside, maintain employment, or attend school. After initial registration, they report in the month of their birthday and every third, sixth, and ninth month thereafter. They must be photographed, pay a registration fee of $20, and complete the registration form with all information.

They must register in person at the registering law enforcement agency within three days if beginning, changing or ending a residence, employment, or school. They must also provide written notice to the Kansas Bureau of Investigation.

If they are transient, they are required to register in person with the registering law enforcement agency every 30 days, or more often at the discretion of the registering law enforcement agency. They are to provide a list of places where they have slept and frequented during the period of time since they last registered. They are also to provide a list of places where they may be contacted and where they intend to sleep and frequent during the period of time prior to the next required registration date.

If convicted or adjudicated and required to register in another state, they are required to register for as long as that state would require or for the period of time required in the State of Kansas, whichever is longer.

If receiving inpatient treatment at any treatment facility, inform the treatment facility of their status as an offender and inform the registering law enforcement agency of the county in which the treatment facility is located of their presence at the treatment facility and the expected duration of the treatment.

They are required to immediately renew any Kansas driver's license or state identification card, and they must annually renew such license or identification card. The driver's license and identification card shall indicate that they are a registered offender. If maintaining primary residence in Kansas, they must surrender all other driver's licenses and identification cards from other states, territories, and the District of Columbia.

They are required to report to the registering law enforcement agency any and all: email addresses; online identities; information relating to membership in any and all personal web pages or online social networks; and internet screen names.

If they travel outside of the United States, they shall report in person to the registering law enforcement agency and provide written notice to the Kansas Bureau of Investigation 21 days prior to any such travel.

An expungement for the crime that requires registration does not terminate the registration obligation.

What are the duties of a registered offender?

- I have been convicted or adjudicated of a crime that requires registration under the Kansas Offender Registration Act, K.S.A. 22-4901 et seq., hereafter referred to as "the Act", and must honor all duties specified by the Act.
- At the time of conviction or adjudication, the court will complete a notice of duty to register if I am released prior to sentencing. Within three (3) business days, I will report to the registering law enforcement agency in the county or tribal land of conviction or adjudication and to the registering law enforcement agency in any place where I reside, maintain employment or attend school, to complete the registration form.
- If in the custody of a correctional facility, I will register with the correctional facility within three business days of initial custody and shall not be required to update such registration until discharged, paroled, furloughed or released on work or school release from a correctional facility.

register, I must be photographed, pay a registration fee of $20, and complete the registration form with all information and updated information required for registration as provided in K.S.A. 22-4907. In addition to the Kansas Offender Registration Act, sex offenders who reside, work or attend school on tribal land shall register pursuant to tribal law. Tribes in the state of Kansas that require registration include the Prairie Band Potawatomi Nation, Iowa Tribe of Kansas and Nebraska and the Kickapoo Tribe in Kansas. Sac and Fox Nation has delegated the registration responsibility to the state of Kansas through the local sheriff's offices, therefore compliance with the Kansas law is sufficient..

- I am required to report four times a year in person to the registering law enforcement agency in the county or location of jurisdiction where I reside, maintain employment, or attend school. After initial registration, I must report in the month of my birthday and every third, sixth, and ninth month occurring before and after my birth month.

I am required to register in person with the registering law enforcement agency every 30 days, or more often at the discretion of the registering law enforcement agency and provide a list of places where I have slept and otherwise frequented during the period of time since the last date of registration and provide a list of places where I may be contacted and where I intend to sleep and otherwise frequent during the period of time prior to the next required date of registration.
- I must register in person upon any commencement, change or termination of residence location, employment status, school attendance or other information within three days of such commencement, change or termination, to the registering law enforcement agency or agencies where last registered and provide written notice to the Kansas Bureau of Investigation.
- If required by out of state law, I will register in any out of state jurisdiction where I reside, maintain employment or attend school.
- I am required to immediately renew any Kansas driver's license or state identification card issued to me, and I must annually renew such license or identification card on or before my birthday. The driver's license and identification card shall indicate that I am a registered offender. If maintaining primary residence in Kansas, I must surrender all other driver's licenses and identification cards from other states, territories, and the District of Columbia, except if I am or an immediate family member is maintaining active duty in any branch of the United States military.

This time period does not include any time incarcerated in any jail or correctional facility or any period of non-compliance with the requirements of the Act. If I am convicted as an adult of a second or subsequent offense(s) covered by the Act, I will be required to register for life. Any conviction for an attempt, conspiracy or solicitation requires registration for the same term as the underlying offense.

If this is my first adult conviction, I must register for twenty-five (25) years unless a longer term is specified or present term limits are amended by statute for any of the following: Criminal sodomy if victim is 16 or more years of age but less than 18 years of age and a member of the same sex or an animal, Indecent solicitation of a child, Electronic solicitation, Aggravated incest, Indecent liberties with a child, Unlawful sexual relations, Sexual exploitation of a child if the victim is 14 or more years of age but less than 18 years of age, Aggravated sexual battery, Promoting prostitution if the prostitute is 14 or more years of age but less than 18 years of age. Any conviction for an attempt, conspiracy or solicitation requires registration for the same term as the underlying offense.

- If adjudicated as a juvenile and required to register by law for an act which if committed by an adult would constitute a sexually violent crime set forth in subsection (c) of K.S.A. 22-4902, and amendments thereto, and such crime is not an off-grid felony or a felony ranked in severity level 1 of the nondrug grid or by court order, I must register until eighteen (18) years of age, or for five (5) years from the date of adjudication or release from confinement, whichever date occurs later. This time period does not include time incarcerated in any jail, juvenile facility or correctional facility or any period of non-compliance with the requirements of the Act. As a juvenile, the court may order that my registration not be an open record displayed on the public website.
