Re: SB 396 – Opponent

Thank you for allowing the City of Overland Park to submit testimony in opposition to SB 396. The proposed legislation would be devastating to the City's financial position and limit our ability to provide public services and programs to our residents.

The City uses the countywide sales tax for general operations like public safety and public works, as well as supporting our capital infrastructure program. If SB 396 became law, the City would lose approximately $16,300,000 to support these programs. Of that amount, about $1,400,000 is directed toward debt service. Clearly, SB 396 would either seriously limit the City's ability to provide services to our residents and service ongoing debt obligation, or require dramatic increases in other revenues (likely property taxes).

The current statutory framework is fair and has served the state, Johnson County, and the City well for many years. Approximately 34% of countywide sales occur in Overland Park, so there is strong basis for the current revenue sharing arrangement. SB 396, and its requirement that revenue sharing only occur through interlocal agreements, unnecessarily disrupts a fair process and will likely introduce interlocal conflict in an area where none currently exists.

Thank you for allowing the City to testify in opposition to SB 396. We respectfully request that the Committee not advance this legislation to the full Senate for approval.
