Background

A sunset provision for all exceptions to KORA was added in 2000, requiring a review of existing exceptions within five years and of any new exception or substantial amendment to an exception by July 1 of the fifth year after enactment. Absent such review, the exceptions would expire. The law also required any exceptions continued after legislative review to be reviewed again five years later; however, 2013 HB 2012 modified the requirement so that exceptions would no longer be subject to review and expiration if the Legislature reviews and continues the exception during the 2013 Session or thereafter.

The bill was introduced by the Senate Committee on Judiciary at the request of Senator Wilborn.

In the Senate Committee hearing, a representative of the League of Kansas Municipalities provided proponent testimony, stating its support for the continuation of exceptions in three statutes under review. Written-only proponent testimony was submitted by the Office of the Attorney General, stating its support for the continuation of the exception related to tobacco sales data. No neutral or opponent testimony was provided.

According to the fiscal note prepared by the Division of the Budget on the bill, enactment of the bill would have no fiscal effect.
