Written testimony in support of SB 212

Chairman Hilderbrand and Senate Public Health and Welfare Committee Members:

When we were deciding on pediatricians for our unborn child, we spent hours being told how safe and effective vaccines were. How they would keep our little one from harm's way. And we were lied to. We were never given the full details of what the ingredients and adjuvants were and the possible side effects. We were never informed of the possible adverse reactions. We were told time and time again of how vaccines save lives. We were never told that vaccines also take lives. That they can also take the very sustenance we deem as life and living. I gave birth to a beautiful, healthy baby boy in 2015. We were told he HAD to be vaccinated or no doctor would ever see him. So, we did. Time and time again. And after his 18-month shots our once thriving son started to decline, reclusive even. We started losing the life in him. Still yet we stayed on schedule and it wasn't until his autism diagnosis that I questioned the vaccines. How does a child go from happy, healthy, and thriving (even ahead of his peers at one time) to losing nearly all of his speech and eye contact? How does diarrhea, eczema and ear infections after every shot not raise a red flag? How do we tell the masses to "believe her" when it comes to a woman's experience with abuse and mistreatment but brush it under the rug when a mother shares her experience of watching her child decline after vaccines? We are taught to question everything except "the science" even though science is ever evolving. We are fighting for our child to regain what was lost, what was stolen from him due to an intense vaccine schedule. The state of Kansas and its constituents will bear the burden of my son's needs as well as the THOUSANDS of other children like him. What we need is informed consent and the truth about vaccines. What we don't need is more vaccines on the schedule and more vaccine injured children.
